

NITC Fellowships

General

Nearly 25% of the undergraduate students receive scholarships. The Institute awards merit scholarships to students of merit and of poor means. Candidates from Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe categories with 50% marks are eligible for stipend.

Merit cum Means/ Merit Scholarships

Those who have passed the qualifying examination in First Class or with 60% marks are eligible to apply for the scholarship provided the annual income of the parents does not exceed Rs.25000/-. Eligible students will have to apply for the Scholarship in the prescribed form. If required, they will be asked to appear for a scholarship examination in Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry and English. Merit will be decided on the basis of the performance in the scholarship examination as well as on the result of the qualifying examination.

The merit cum means scholarship is tenable for 12 months in an year, the value of the scholarship being Rs.125/- p.m. (subject to revision). The scholarship is renewable year after year for the entire programme according to the rules in force. There is no exemption from payment of tuition fees for the awardees of merit cum means scholarship.

Merit scholarship will be awarded every year. A nominal prize of Rs.100/- and a certificate of merit is awarded in lieu of scholarship to eligible students, the annual income of whose parents exceeds Rs.25000/-. In these cases also, there is no exemption from payment of tuition fees.
